

The Art of Gifts

For some people, gift-giving is a serious undertaking. Take Larry. No ties or socks on his gift list. Instead, Larry and his gift consultants like to hand-pick from the bounty in Larry's Market, selecting just the right combination of artisan cheeses, crispy crackers, rich coffee beans, crunchy pretzels, fruitful preserves and scrumptious desserts and confections. Final touches, like the right wine accompaniment and fresh fruit garnish, make each gift a real treat. But it doesn't end there. Thoughtful note cards, funny, solemn, or professional themes, crisp and colorful packaging, and an artful arrangement in a basket or box make each gift a work of art. Don't your colleagues, friends and loved ones deserve this treatment?

Call Larry's and ask for a special gift basket. Let them come up with the contents, or if you're a Type A personality and can't give away that much control, select from the list of baskets offered here. But first, the legal stuff: we may substitute an item if we're out, but we'll make sure that it's of equal value (who knows, you may like it better!). And our prices may change without prior notice (so hurry up and order, already!).
